Sinatra and Mia Farrow Plan to Wed

NEW YORK (AP) — It's official. Frank Sinatra and Mia Farrow are engaged and they'll be wed sometime between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The engagement was announced Wednesday by the mother of the bride-to-be, actress Maureen O'Sullivan.

"I couldn't be more delighted," the mother said. "Frank is a wonderful person and I know they'll be very happy together."

Sinatra, 50, was causing teenage girls to swoon as he sang with the bands of Harry James and Tommy Dorsey some years before his 21-year-old bride was born. He has a son and a daughter older than Miss Farrow.

The age difference doesn't matter, Miss O'Sullivan said.

"I know people who are an-tiques at 35 and others who can watusi at 70. Frank has always been absolutely sweet when I've seen him."

Mia, who has been seeing Sinatra for two years, has said, "I feel more at ease with Frank than with any boy my own age."

Neither Sinatra nor Miss Farrow had any public comment on the engagement. He is in London, making the movie "The Naked Runner." She is on a shopping trip in New York and will return soon to Hollywood and her starring role in television's "Payton Place," her mother said.

Before Sinatra left for London, he gave the blue-eyed, blonde Miss Farrow an engagement ring with a nine-carat, pear-shaped diamond. She described it as a "friendship" when newsmen first spotted it recently.

In 1962 Sinatra gave a similar ring—one of 10 carats—to Juliet Prowse, 25, a dancer. But the engagement ended six weeks later, reportedly because she insisted on continuing her career.

Miss Farrow will not give up her career, it was announced.

Sinatra has been married twice. His first wife was Nancy Barbato, mother of all three Sinatra children, two of whom are in show business.

Frank Jr., 22, sings in night clubs and with bands. Nancy Sinatra, 26, also sings. Her recording of "These Boots Were Made For Walkin'" became the nation's top hit earlier this year.

Sinatra's first marriage ended in 1951, when he wed actress Ava Gardner. They were divorced in 1957.

Miss Farrow has not been married.

Sinatra, who has branched into varied entertainment activities, is estimated to gross $4 million to $6 million a year from his enterprises.

Miss Farrow was the third of seven children of Miss O'Sullivan and the late movie director John Farrow.

GOPs Making Bids in the Deep South

By SANDERS CARTER
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Republicans in the South are making major bids for office this summer — including some governorships which have been Democratic strongholds for as long as a century.

Most are convinced that voters will rally to conservative appeals, and party leaders in some states talk confidently of forging enduring two-party systems.

Republicans are planning governor's races in at least five states. They say their candidates will seek seven seats in the U.S. Senate, at least 45 in the House of Representatives and an undetermined number of lesser state and local offices.

The resentment of administration policies which permitted Barry Goldwater to sweep five Deep South states in 1964 still is strong, but some candidates are careful not to align themselves too closely with their 1964 presidential nominee.

One reason: Vast numbers of newly registered Negro voters haven't forgotten that Goldwater voted in the Senate against the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

"This is not a Goldwater year," says Claude Kirk, a wealthy investment banker from Jacksonville who is seeking the governorship in Florida.

Most party leaders are trying to soft-pedal racial questions—"race will not be an issue," the Republican chairman in Mississippi states flatly — and some are soliciting Negro votes openly.

"We think a great number of Negroes will vote Republican," says National Committeeman I. Lee Potter of Virginia, where Negroes comprise 20 per cent of registered voters.

"It will be hard to pry them away from people who promise them a moon they can't deliver," he says. "But we feel they will be intelligent enough to know they are being hoodwinked."

In Georgia, Republicans have elected a Negro as parliamentarian of the state party in hopes of recapturing Negro support which could provide the margin of victory in some races.

The Republican spokesmen are united almost completely in their criticism of the Johnson administration. For the most part, they are shunting civil rights talk to the background and hitting the President hardest on the war in Viet Nam and the rising cost of living.

Campaigns in South Carolina will be based in part on "reducing federal takeovers of state, county and city government functions," says party chairman Harry S. Dent.

And in Mississippi, the state chairman declares, "We are the only responsible, effective opposition to the 'Great Society'."

Life In Arkansas

Dr. W. G. Cooper of Little Rock is a patient man—and perhaps that is why he can take it all in stride.

Last week, with his automobile in for repairs, he borrowed keys from a fellow physician at Arkansas Baptist Medical Center.

"It's the white Chevy," the friend said.

Merrill, Dr. Cooper rolled on. Back at his office, the telephone rang, and a gruff sounding voice said: "This is Lieutenant Shook at the Police Department. We have a report that the doctor has been seen in a stolen car."

The receptionist thought: It's those nutty friends of his.

"Have him call the Police Department when he gets in," the lieutenant said.

"What's that number?" the receptionist asked.

"The Police Department," the voice repeated sternly.

Dr. Cooper, meanwhile, had finished his business and was arriving back at the hospital. As it swung into full view so did a group of businesslike policemen and a physician or two.

"There he is! There he is!" one of the doctors shouted, wagging an accusing finger.

There are those who say the doctor was crying: "Nab him! Nab him!"

Cooper put the white Chevy to a stop and proclaimed his innocence.

As it turned out, there had been two white Chevys and the same set of keys started them both. We know. The police demanded a demonstration.

Dear Helen: With all your talk in America about the "new freedom" I would like to go on record as saying American girls are very repressed.

I am on my way home to France after being in college here. I got my face slapped, or nearly, so many times I decided to give up women.

If there are over-aggressive females here, as some of the men lament about advice columns, I wish I had found one! I was accused of being what they call a "sex maniac" when I was only doing what came natural. — Pierre

Dear Pierre: Sorry about that. But also glad to hear it. American females aren't repressed, friend, just selective. — H.

Dear Helen: What fries me is these girls who just can't make up their minds what to do with their illegitimate babies, and ask your readers, "Should I or should I not give my baby away?"

They ought to know that no one can make that decision for them. And if they make the first decision — to cave in and risk having a baby — then they should be capable of deciding what to do with it. They shouldn't have to ask.

Dear Coed: When unwed expectant mothers ask advice from my readers, they probably end up more undecided than ever because mail on this subject is evenly split, and both sides insist theirs is the only way.

Which of course is not right, because there is no pat answer to, "Should I or shouldn't I keep my baby?" The decision depends on dozens of circumstances ranging from maturity to al.

Trained counselors never tell girls what to do. They try to clarify their thinking so that they can choose the best course for the baby. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living; so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen Help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of HOPE STAR.

Got Something Besides Money

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Four youths stopped two older men walking on the lakefront "We're going to mess you up unless you hand over some money," they threatened.

The men handed over $46, then reached into their pockets again — and came up with guns and badges.

The would-be victims were city detectives who collared the

CHATTER

By Bill
Remember Cromwell's famous lecture "Acres of Diamonds"? It tells about the man who sold his farm land and went in search of diamonds. His travels took him all over the world and he finally landed back home, es. But the sad part of the story is when he learns that the man to whom he sold his land has discovered diamonds... right in his own backyard!

We do not blame anyone for going to shop around. But we feel that often people go to distant city, get little or no special service and even though they pay the same price, the traveling makes the merchandise much more expensive.

At Raley's Style Shoppe we put forth every effort to bring you smartly styled garments atationally advertised prices. Individual service is our special. Our salesmanship is relaxed, our aim is a return customer. If we displease anyone is certainly unintentional. In the words we just plain like talking, it is our job and our hobby and we appreciate your shopping with us, we invite you to do it more often.

And in case you would like a sneak-preview of what is to come for fall...we would be pleased to furnish that. Our coats are lovely, both fur trimmed and casual. Our sportswear is as beautiful as ever. Dresses are new looking, seldom McFarland, Emmet, Ark.

The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Richard Hogue, a daughter-in-law. Miss Julie Hogue, a granddaughter, of Dallas, Tex., presided at the guest book. Serving at the table were Mrs. Wade Warren, Mrs. David Frith, and daughters-in-law, Mrs. Truel A. Hogue, Joplin, Mo., and Mrs. James A. Hogue, Dallas. Those dispensing hospitality with the gifts were Mrs. Paul D. McClellan, Mrs. Brent A.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Miss Gail Cross

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. (Bill) Cross announce the engagement of their daughter, Gail, to Cpl. Michael Braden, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Braden of Hope. Miss Cross is a 1966 graduate Hogue of Joplin, Mo., Miss Sandra McFarland, a granddaughter, and Michael May, a grandson.

Beautiful arrangements of yellow flowers were used throughout the house. There were about 160 friends and relatives who called during the appointed hours.

COMING, GOING

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Franklin went to Eudora Sunday for the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Joe Franklin, whose home was in Texarkana.

The Rev. R. B. Moore, Jr. is in Little Rock on a two-day business trip.

Gene Smiley of St. Louis returned home Monday after a 10-day visit with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smiley.

Virgil Webb Warmack, Chicago, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Teland Warmack, and this week they went to Baton Rouge, La., to see Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Warmack and family and Mrs. Lee Warmack. The trip also included points of interest in Miss.

1905 Dropout Was Bothered

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Three years ago Frank Burroughs was a 79-year-old high school dropout.

Today he's a geography student at the University of Michigan.
"It's been bothering me ever since 1905 that I was a dropout," he says, smiling, "so I decided it still wasn't too late."
Burroughs, a salesman for 41 years, got his diploma from Wyoming Park High School in 1963, a year after he retired.

"My wife and the (four) kids kept telling me for years to go back to school, so when I got my high school diploma I figured I might as well keep on going," he says.
Burroughs, a widower, lives with his daughter, Margaret, an assistant high school principal.
Argentina, Brazil and Chile are sometimes known as the A.B.C. states.

Athletes of World to Replace Reds Griffith Fails in Knockout Try But Wins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Athletes of the world over are being asked to fill the void left by Russia's cancellation of its track and field team's meet against the U.S. squad at the Coliseum, scheduled for July 23-24.

The Soviet team officially announced Wednesday that it would not appear. Earlier reports of the cancellation were announced by Tass, official Soviet news agency.

The Russians said their athletes chose to cancel the appearance because of U.S. "atrocities" in Viet Nam, although U.S. State Department officials expressed doubts that the athletes themselves made the decision.

Glenn Davis, special events director for the Times, said noted athletes from the free world have been invited to appear at the meet, along with teams from Australia and New Zealand.

Several U.S. athletes who missed making the U.S. team are also scheduled to appear, Davis said.

Teams from England and West Germany were unable to accept because of other schedules, but some athletes from each could appear, Davis said.

Kidd Doubtful Slalom Starter

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., runner-up in the men's slalom in the 1964 Olympics, is listed a doubtful starter in the World Alpine Ski Championships next month.

Gordie Easton, trainer of the U.S. men's team, said that Kidd had not recovered as well as had been hoped from ankle surgery last winter.

Brown Winner of Boat Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Al Brown, in his Broad Jumper, a 28-foot Donzi, won the 270-mile around Long Island motorboat race Wednesday at an average speed of approximately 56 miles per hour. His elapsed time was four hours, 42 minutes.

Seventy per cent of the drugstore prescriptions filled in 1963 were for products that were unknown before 1950.

Manager of Redlegs Has Been Fired

By J. A. KANGILASKI

CINCINNATI (AP) — Don Heffner has been fired as manager of the Cincinnati Reds and coach Dave Bristol, only 33, has the job today of trying to pull the team into the first division in the National League.

Bristol was named Wednesday as an interim manager to take over the eighth-place Reds for the second half of the season.

Bristol takes over tonight as the Reds face the St. Louis Cardinals in a two-night double-header.

The firing of Heffner followed repeated denials by Cincinnati Owner-General Manager Bill DeWitt that he planned any changes.

As recently as Tuesday night DeWitt was quoted by Lou Smith, sports editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, as saying in St. Louis, "I haven't given it a serious thought" in reply to questions about Heffner's future.

Heffner held a workout for the team Wednesday morning before getting word he had lost his job.

Bristol, a former minor league infielder and manager, is the third man to head the Reds since Fred Hutchinson was stricken with cancer and had to quit as manager late in the 1964 season. Hutchinson died later.

Things have been going wrong with the Reds — the pre-season favorites — ever since the start of the season. First their opening series was rained out — for the first time in decades — and then they lost nine out of 12 games before winning two in a row.

Just before the All-Star Game break, the Reds were in eighth place, 15 games out of the league lead with a record of 37-46.

Even the announcement of Heffner's firing did not come off as planned. DeWitt's plane developed mechanical trouble after leaving St. Louis and his prepared statement was read by Assistant General Manager Phil Seghi.

"It is with deep regret we announce that Don Heffner has been relieved of his duties as manager of the Reds," the statement stated. "While we feel that Heffner, who is a dedicated baseball man, did a good job, we believe a change at this time is in order."

"It is our plan to seek a permanent manager as soon as feasible."

"Don has been offered a job to continue in our organization next year, and it is my hope that he will remain with us in some capacity."

Neither Heffner nor Bristol attended the news conference. Bristol was at home in Andrews, N.C., and Heffner reportedly was at his Cincinnati apartment where he kept the telephone off the hook.

Bristol, in Andrews, said he regards the interim job as a "real challenge. I hope I can do a good enough job to make it permanent."

Japs in China

to Promote Sports

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese sports delegation now in Peking has agreed to promote sports exchanges with Communist China, Japanese newspapers reported from Peking Thursday.

The dispatches said the agreement called for Japan and Communist China to hold separate athletic meets in which the results are compared by cable.

ROUGH SLIDING, perhaps, but Sam Sessions came out without a scratch. His sprint car hits the rail at Adora Ohio Speedway and flipped end over end.

Majors Back in Business, 11 Tonight

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

Its midsummer pause for the All-Star classic ended, major league baseball got back to the business of pennant races today with 11 night games and one new manager.

Dave Bristol was named interim manager of the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday, replacing Don Heffner. The Reds, pre-season pennant favorites in the National League, ended the first half in eighth place, just two games in front of the New York Mets.

Heffner was the second manager to feel the axe this season. The New York Yankees fired Johnny Keane in May.

The Reds, plagued by a series of rainouts early in the season, lost 13 of their first 17 games and never did straighten out. They ended an 11-game slide with a 2-1 victory in San Francisco Sunday — the last game in which Heffner was to manage them.

And while the Reds changed managers, it looked as if the Giants and Dodgers were ready for an old-fashioned squabble to start the second half of the season.

San Francisco Manager Herman Franks is reportedly angry over the use of his ace pitchers, Juan Marichal and Gaylord Perry, by Los Angeles Manager Walt Alston in the All-Star game.

Franks told Harry Jupiter, a sports writer for the San Francisco Examiner, that he had complained to Alston.

"He had eight pitchers," Jupiter quoted Franks. "They're all All-Stars. There's no reason Alston had to use both of mine. That burned me up and I told him so."

Marichal worked three innings and Perry, the winning pitcher, two. Alston also used his own Sandy Koufax for three innings and Jim Bunning of Philadelphia for two.

Alston was quoted by the Examiner as saying, "You have to go according to the game. I would have liked to have held Sandy out. He probably could have used three days rest. Everybody is in the same situation."

The Dodger pilot denied that Franks, who coached first base for the National League stars, mentioned the use of Marichal and Perry.

Under All-Star rules all starters must play at least three innings and pitchers may not be used for more than three innings.

Franks' complaint came during another tight National League race. His Giants hold a one-game edge on Pittsburgh, with Alston's defending champion Dodgers five games behind.

San Francisco opens a three-game series in Philadelphia tonight before moving on to Pittsburgh for what could be the season's first crucial series.

The Pirates are at home to last-place Chicago while the Dodgers send Koufax after his 16th victory against the Mets in New York. In the American League, Baltimore took an impressive eight-game lead into Detroit where the second-place Tigers hoped to make some kind of dent in the bulge.

Cleveland, 11 games back in third place, was at Chicago. With the Orioles making a shambles of the top of the race, interest in the American League has focused on the also-rans.

Last-place Boston has won 9 of its last 10 and was just 1 1/2 games behind the staggering New York Yankees.

Kansas City, under Manager Alvin Dark, has skipped into sixth place and entertains the Yankees tonight. The Red Sox are at California.

Jim Brown Claims He's Retiring

LONDON (AP) — Jimmy Brown, perhaps the greatest runner pro football has ever known, is calling it quits — retiring at the peak of his career.

"I am leaving the Browns with an attitude of friendliness and cooperation," Brown said Wednesday night. "Once I return to Cleveland I'll do everything I can to help the Browns — other than playing."

Brown was scheduled to make the formal announcement in a press conference in London today. The Associated Press learned of his plans Wednesday night, as did the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The 30-year-old, 230-pound fullback for Cleveland's National Football League team is in England making a movie. His decision had been hinted for some time.

Owner Art Modell had told Brown he expected the fullback to be in Hiram, Ohio when the veterans report to Coach Blanton Collier for training this week, and had threatened him with a fine if he did not report. The movie Brown is playing in is not expected to be finished until late September.

"I had intended to play this year," said Brown, who still has a year to go on a reported $60,000-a-year contract. "My original reason for coming back was because Art wanted me to. Then, when it was pointed out by Art my reporting late put the team in an awkward position, my original reason for returning wasn't there any longer."

"Each day I kept hoping I could call Art and give him a date when the picture would be completed. But nobody knew. We still don't know."

Will he reconsider, once the picture is finished?

"No," Brown said. "This decision is final. I'm no longer preparing mentally for football. I'm committing myself to other things. I'm not going to play again."

In his nine-year pro career the former Syracuse All-American carried the ball 2,359 times and gained a total of 12,312 yards for an average of 5.2 yards per carry. He scored 126 touchdowns, and led the league in ground gaining eight years.

Last year he was voted the league's Most Valuable Player and led the league in rushing with 1,544 yards, averaging 5.3 yards a carry. He scored 21 touchdowns, one more than the old record but one less than the 22 scored by rookie Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears.

Collier was not surprised by Brown's announcement, but the loss has to hurt. He said he was very sorry to lose "the greatest running back in the history of the game," he added.

"I want to make it clear that this is not a one-man football team. I certainly expect the Browns to be in contention."

The Browns' chief remaining running backs are halfbacks Ernie Green and Leroy Kelly. Veteran Charley Scales is the No. 2 fullback.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Tumor Growth Rate
No Malignancy Sign

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When you have a tumor the first thing your doctor tries to find out is whether it is benign or malignant. In general, benign tumors, which include cysts or hollow tumors filled with fluid and solid tumors, feel spongy or rubbery. Malignant tumors, which include all forms of cancer, have a stony hardness.

The rate of growth of a tumor rarely helps to place it in the benign or malignant class but, although a benign tumor may attain a great size, it never extends beyond the tissue capsule that separates it from other organs. A malignant tumor, on the other hand, even when it is still quite small may be found on microscopic examination to have invaded the tissue of an organ adjacent to the one in which it started. That is one reason your doctor likes to take a small piece (biopsy specimen) for microscopic study.

Another reason for a biopsy is that a trained pathologist can often differentiate between the cells in a benign tumor which look like normal cells of the affected organ and malignant cells which are abnormal even for the organ of their origin.

Cancers have another unfortunate characteristic—they metastasize. By that we mean that a few cancer cells may break away from the original or primary tumor, enter the blood or lymph stream and come to rest in a remote part of the body where they proceed to form one or more secondary malignant tumors. That is why so often when a cancer is removed there is a recurrence within a few months or a few years.

Only when your doctor is sure of the nature of a tumor can he advise whether an operation is necessary and whether or not it should be done without delay.

Q—Could a 12-year-old boy react to penicillin by having a convulsion? He had no fever, rash or other symptoms.

A—The typical penicillin reaction is characterized by a rash which may be followed by blisters and peeling of the skin, fever and delirium, but not convulsions. There is, of course, a wide variation in the severity of the reactions depending on the amount of the drug given, history of a previous reaction and personal sensitivity. Your son should have an electroencephalogram and other tests to determine the cause of his convulsion.

Aileen Reports:

By AILEEN SNODDY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Firms whose names are synonymous with the cosmetic pampering and perfuming of women have put both feet in the money trough again.

This time the trough is filled with grooming products for men.

"We knew it would come to this," sighed a male executive recently hired by a shirt manufacturer to head up its new men's toiletries division.

"Manufacturers are out to get a piece of this business," he explained, "and what better spot to grab a few million bucks than by distributing in menswear departments."

The executive was being very blunt about firms moving in to siphon away at the $400 million spent for men's grooming products last year.

That the market is there for before- and after-shaving lotions, deodorants and men's fragrances is indisputable.

One trade magazine this spring, for example, had more than five pages listing (on both sides) new fragrances for men.

Yet the flood of men's fragrances in the last two years turns out to be only the first wave hitting the dike of male resistance.

Those hypoing the pulse of the cosmetic industry point out that introduction of effective skin care products and hair coloring for men may turn the tide for generations to come.

Admittedly some of the skin care products are the brain-children of women, such as Gert Brows, creative director for John Robert Powers. This firm was among the first to market an extensive line of products for men.

Among the special men's care items are an after-shave moisturizer that helps a man look fit by giving his skin a hint of color, a facial talc to help hide a five o'clock shadow or dull the shine of a bald head, a colorless lip guard and a pick-up mask "to ease fatigue lines in the face."

Although she rationalizes the pushing of men's products with "after all, men have sensitive skin, too, and they want to look nice and smell nice," she admits that both men and women need to accept a man's use of them. Firms promoting hair coloring for men find it best to let men speak for them.

In fact, promotional gambits and ads lean heavily upon the he-man. Hopefully, he will be rugged enough to "do the manly thing," "face up," "face the world bravely," "be able to defy the wildest feeling" and be inspired by "outdoors freshness and fragrance."

"Pre-shave — after-shave — after-shower — deodorant — talc — cologne — WHEW!!!"

Unfortunately, all this emphasis on the he-male leads many women, after a quick sniff, to put many men's fragrances in the lockerroom category. This, too, will change, men's perfumers say, as more men wear scents that are pleasing without apology.

One who doesn't apologize is Roy Pask, married and a father, who tried a new men's hair coloring. An executive with a women's fashion magazine, he is extremely pleased to be able to dye his hair to match his young face.

Just on the gray side of 40, Pask admits the emphasis on youth in jobs will help sell hair coloring. After all, he faces a world with 60 per cent of the men under 35 and employers much older than that who don't want to admit it.

SIDESPLITTER—Italian actress Rosanno Schiaffino may be well-covered up in front and back but she's well-ventilated on the side in this outfit for her new film, "A Witch in Love." Sliding up to the open-sided beauty is costar Richard Johnson.

Alex. H. Washburn'Lowest Tax'
Title Isn't 100%
Complimentary

An Associated Press dispatch yesterday told us that a survey shows Arkansans paid the lowest per capita state and local tax in the nation in fiscal 1965.

The report sounds like a compliment. Not bad reading, you might think, for an industry considering moving South.

The report originated with the Commerce Clearing House of Chicago, a private agency that makes professional studies of tax conditions for fee-paying clients.

But the dollar total isn't the whole story—there should be an element of justice in a tax program, and where tax justice is concerned Arkansas' program is woefully deficient.

Almost invariably Arkansas dodges the hard and just tax road and picks the easiest way—without regard to justice.

It is American principle that you should pay taxes according to your means. But in Arkansas we grab the tax dollar that is easiest to get—a procedure that invariably leaves the poor man without a public defender.

Our worst sin is the hypocritical way in which we lean more and more upon the state sales tax, not merely to increase revenues but to substitute for the traditional taxes upon property. You hear it said that a sales tax is the essence of justice because "it collects from people who pay practically no other tax." That was a valid statement in the beginning, 1935, when the original sales tax was 2 per cent and groceries and clothes and medicine were tax exempt.

But it wasn't quite so valid when, a few years later, these exemptions were removed. And still less so in 1957 when the tax was increased to 3 per cent across the board. All you have to do to realize the absurd injustice of it is to consult your courthouse records and note that while the sales tax "take" soared by millions of dollars property, whose value multiplied many times with inflation, continues to be assessed at or near depression levels.

Obviously, the sales tax hits hardest those least able to pay. Obviously, justice demands that property be made to pay its fair share.

But professional school men are no better than the politicians when it comes to levying taxes justly. They push for higher millage rates which under-assessed property owners don't greatly mind—but shun assessment reform like poison.

Why? The answer is obvious. The poor don't contribute to political campaigns—but people of means do.

I am one of the latter. But I don't like what I see, I once spent $18,000 of my own money to help correct this injustice—in the petition campaigns of 1955 and 1957—without effect.

But I am of the same mind still—reminding you that today's "Lowest Tax" title is more insult than compliment.

Foreign Aid
Bill Sailed
Through

By WILBUR MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's $3.3-billion multiyear foreign aid authorization bill has sailed through its first House test but opponents vowed to try again today to slash both time and money from the measure.

The House voted down 122 to 86 Wednesday night an amendment to cut the two-year authorization to a single year. Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Calif., author of the rejected amendment, later declared: "I'm sure somebody else will try again today. If they don't," he added, "I just might."

A final vote is expected late today. Voting on amendments started Wednesday after two days of debate.

Opponents of the two-year measure argued that a constant review is needed of the aid program in light of changing, critical world times.

Alford Says
Road Steel
Overpriced

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dale Alford says he is investigating reports of structural steel overpricing, which, if they proved to be correct, would make the allegations of price-fixing in asphalt sales to the state "look small."

In a speech at Bentonville Wednesday night, Alford said the reports were that the state Highway Department had been paying too much for the steel, which is used in bridges and overpasses.

Attorneys for the Highway Department are investigating charges that the state paid some $3.5 million too much for asphalt in recent years. Alford also said a stockbroker from central Arkansas had told him that Clint Jones, state securities commissioner, was soliciting campaign contributions from Frank Holt from securities dealers. This stockbroker reported that Jones had telephoned him for this purpose, Alford said.

Alford charged that Holt's organization was "using the state government structure and state employees" in the campaign. "Certain department heads, Alford said, are asking their employees to work for Holt."

Elsewhere in the governor's race, Brooks Hays, who along with five others opposes Alford in the Democratic primary, said he would never be indifferent to federal intrusion, "but I'm not making any blind, emotional attacks on Washington as some of the candidates are doing."

State governments leave vacuums which the federal government fills, he said. "I'll fill those vacuums with positive programs."

At a political rally at Bassett, Kenneth Sulcer stepped aside to let Hays speak. Hays thanked Sulcer, who was the first man to enter the Democratic race, and said if he, Hays, was elected governor, there would be a place in his administration for Sulcer.

Earlier in the day, Sulcer had promised to provide voting machines for every precinct in the state if he is elected. Every precinct could have the machines, at state expense, within four years, Sulcer said.

Sulcer's charges that Holt and Alford have the support of backers of the administration of Gov. Orval Faubus drew fire from Holt and Alford relatives. Jack Holt Jr., a nephew of the gubernatorial candidate, said there was no evidence that Holt would be controlled by a machine.

He said the Holt law firm at Little Rock, of which he is a member, had been given no state business during the 12 years of the Faubus administration.

Charles W. Wilson, native son who has run Hempstead Memorial Hospital ever since it opened 11 years ago, is retiring as administrator Oct. 1. Announcement was made in a letter addressed to the hospital board July 11.

Photographed at his desk yesterday, Mr. Wilson observed that he will turn 65 this year.

"Running a big hospital is a tough and complicated job," he added. "Thanks to a good board and a good staff and a good public I am leaving Hempstead Memorial in excellent financial shape. I have spent my life working for hospitals and now feel I am entitled to a rest."

Mr. Wilson, son of J. S. Wilson of Columbus, pioneer farmer, merchant, and banker, began his medical career as a laboratory assistant in a hospital in Korea in 1923. He has been in hospital or laboratory work ever since except for a brief return to the family farm at Columbus. In 1925 he joined the staff of the late Dr. L. M. Lille and for five years was in charge of X-ray, laboratory, and aesthetics, at Julia Chester Hospital, predecessor of Hempstead Memorial.

He was in Oklahoma for two years, but in 1952 returned to Arkansas as administrator of the new Clark County Memorial Hospital at Arkadelphia. And on March 1, 1955, he took charge of Hempstead Memorial while it was nearing completion, and organized and managed it into the institution which it is today.

Youth Drowned

JOHNSON, Ark. (AP) — A Memphis youth in Arkansas to chop cotton drowned Tuesday in the Mississippi River apparently while swimming during a rest break.

Mississippi County sheriff's deputies identified the victim as Robert White, 18.

This Deer Chases
Barking Dogs

GREGORY, Mich. (AP) — Mrs. Clifford Howlett heard her two dogs barking. She looked out the window and saw a white-tailed deer chase one of the dogs up on to the porch.

After flower boxes had been overturned, Mrs. Howlett said recently, the doe turned her attention to the other dog, which fled into the woods with the deer in pursuit.

The dog returned half an hour later, panting but unharmed, Mrs. Howlett said.

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — Sheriff Rudy Gonzales shot down a one-armed bandit recently with his submachine gun. County commissioners ordered the sheriff to destroy a confiscated nickel slot machine, so Gonzales used it as the target for his machine gun practice.

Pay Raises
for Highway
Employees

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Highway Commission has approved pay raises for about 90 per cent of the 3,906 Highway Department employees, Highway Director Walter Hicks said Wednesday.

The increases, all merit raises, total $100,620 per year. The increases went to about 1,750 salaried workers and about the same number of hourly employees, Hicks said.

He said the increase did not include monthly salaried district maintenance employees. If the legislature fails to allocate additional funds for the department during the next session, Hicks said, the department may have to curtail part of its program.

The Highway Commission approved the raises at its last meeting, on the recommendations of division heads and district superintendents, Hicks said.

Illegal pay raises totaling more than $2 million for Highway Department employees were rescinded in April.

Death Toll
From Heat
106 in U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Storms hit scattered sections of the nation's heat belt during the night but brought only temporary relief from the hot and humid weather across the eastern two-thirds of the country.

The death toll from the heat wave — now three weeks old in some areas — was at least 106. Scores of persons have been treated in hospitals for heat exhaustion and the continued hot and muggy weather has made millions of persons miserable.

Heat-related deaths in St. Louis and in two Illinois counties across the Mississippi River from the city totaled 87, including 54 in St. Louis.

New York City's Health Department reported 17 deaths last week directly attributed to heat stroke. Deaths for the week totaled 2,250, which was 650 above normal for the period.

Helen L. Taylor, St. Louis coroner, said most of the dead were elderly persons who died of heat and exhaustion, or a combination of heat exhaustion and such ailments as heart disease and diabetes.

The mercury soared to 106 degrees in St. Louis Wednesday, marking the fifth straight day of temperatures above 100.

Readings also reached 100 degrees or higher in parts of 21 states. The 101 at New York City was a record for July 13, eight degrees higher than the mark set in 1954. Philadelphia's 97 also was a high for the date.

Americans
Blast 2 MIGs
Out of Sky

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American jet fighters blasted two MIG21s out of the skies over North Viet Nam within three minutes today after downing a slower MIG17 Wednesday.

All three MIGs were brought down by heat-seeking Sidewinder missiles.

As U.S. Air Force F4C Phantoms were blasting the MIG21s, North Viet Nam's fastest jet fighter, U.S. B52 bombers pounded an area just south of the 17th Parallel frontier where an estimated 5,000 infiltrating Communist troops were believed to be massing.

The Air Force said the first MIG kill today was scored at 12:10 p.m. in the Red River Valley about 22 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Three minutes later the second delta-wing MIG21 was shot down 50 miles northwest of the North Vietnamese capital.

Capt. William J. Swender, 31, of Alamogordo, N.M., and 1st Lt. Duane A. Buttell, 25, of Chillicothe, Ill., brought down the first Communist jet.

"The MIG looked like a big, red barn door," said Buttell. "We shot him down with our first missile as he was on the tail of an F105."

Credit for the second MIG21 went to 1st Lt. Ronald G. Martin of Lake Villa, Ill., and 1st Lt. Richard N. Kripep, 24, of Chesterton, Ind.

In the dogfight Wednesday four Navy Phantoms battled off six slower MIG17s which challenged them as the Americans were providing a protective shield for U.S. planes bombing the Co Trai railway and highway bridges 23 miles southeast of Hanoi.

The Navy said one MIG was brought down by Lt. William M. McGuigan, 26, of Spearfish, S.D., and Lt. (j.g.) Robert M. Fowler, 25, of San Francisco. The other five MIGs fled, and the four Phantoms returned undamaged to the carrier Constellation, a Navy spokesman said.

The three kills brought to 17 the total number of MIGs downed by U.S. pilots over North Viet Nam. Another is listed as a probable kill. Three MIG21s have been reported shot down.

Says People
Entitled to Elect Choice

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — The people of the 4th Congressional District are entitled to elect their representative, not have one thrust upon them and sold like a new brand of soap, John Harris Jones says.

Jones said in remarks prepared for delivery at El Dorado tonight that he was talking about campaigning by bill boards, press agents, musical jingles, spot announcements and sound trucks.

One of the most significant facts of the 4th District campaign, he said, is the extraordinary amount of money being spent by some of the candidates.

His campaign budget is less than $10,000, most of it his own money, Jones said.

"Campaign backers who put up $60,000 for a candidate expect special consideration which would prevent a congressman from representing all of the people of the district."

Jones was scheduled to deliver the talk to the El Dorado League of Women Voters.

Umpire Girl Is
Drowned in River

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP) — Phyllis Manasco, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wingo Manasco of near Umpire, drowned in the Cassatot River Wednesday.

The girl and some of her friends were standing on a floating board when Miss Manasco fell into deep water, Sheriff Fomby Jackson said.

Umpire is located 20 miles northeast of De Queen.

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
CHICAGO (AP) — Mobs of Negro youths, throwing fire bombs and bricks, stampeded through two Chicago neighborhoods Wednesday night.

It was the second successive night of violence on Chicago's West Side.

Here is the night's scorecard: Twenty Negro youths were arrested and charged with arson, resisting arrest or disorderly conduct.

Dozens more were seized by police but later released. More than a dozen policemen were hit by bricks, rocks and bottles but none suffered serious injuries.

At least two neighborhood residents were hit by stray bullets and hospitalized.

Scores of other persons were treated for injuries or hospitalized with wounds ranging from cuts to possible skull fractures.

Fire bombs started many blazes. Dozens of stores were looted. Broken glass from smashed shop windows littered sidewalks and streets.

For the second day in a row, a gushing fire hydrant set off street fighting along Roosevelt Road near the Loop.

Police turned off the hydrant, which had been turned on illegally — although it is a summer tradition in Chicago to cool off with gushing fire hydrants. Temperatures were in the 80s. Tuesday's disturbance had started the same way.

The onlooking Negroes shouted "police brutality!" and claimed that police hit children with swinging nightsticks. Soon rocks and bottles began to crash in the police ranks.

Mussel Diver Is River Victim

POCAHONTAS, Ark. (AP) — Pvt. Jimmy A. Davis, 19, drowned Tuesday while diving for mussels in the Black River five miles south of here.

Sheriff Bill Rapert of Randolph County said the breathing apparatus on Davis' diving gear apparently failed. Davis was stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Rapert said Davis shed his gear and swam to the surface, but went under while swimming to a boat in which two companions waited.

Crosses Atlantic

FENIT, Ireland (AP) — William Verity of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., has landed in Ireland after a 68-day voyage across the Atlantic in a 12-foot sloop.

Verity arrived Tuesday in the County Kerry Harbor of Fenit with enough food and water to last another 10 days.

Verity said he made the trip to show it was possible that explorers before Columbus crossed the Atlantic in small craft.

Coroner Andrew Toman, after looking at the carnage, said, "This is the crime of the century."

"I went inside and found one girl lying downstairs, apparently strangled," he said. "There was a strip of cloth around her neck. She was partly clothed."

"Upstairs, seven other girls were lying in two bedrooms and a bathroom.

"Several of the bodies were sprawled across one another. Some of the victims appeared to have been strangled. Some were lying in pools of blood," he said.

"I've been a coroner for six years, and I've never seen anything like this."

Toman gave these tentative identifications of the victims: Marlita Gargallo, 21; Pamela Wilkening, 22; Gloria Davy, 23; Susan Farris, 22; Patricia Mat-sucki, 21; Marianne Nordan, 22; Valcentia Passon, 23, and Nina Schmale, 21. He said he did not yet know where their homes were.

An FBI official said that the crime was the worst in Chicago annals. Veteran policemen were shocked, they said, by the enormous quantity of blood around the bodies of the victims.

The survivor, Amara Cro-zono, told police Capt. Harold Mc Coy she avoided the killer by hiding under a bed.

Horror Orgy
Covers a 3
Hour Period

BULLETIN

CHICAGO (AP)—A man answering the description of one sought in connection with the massacre of eight nurses today was captured in downtown Chicago, police reported.

CHICAGO (AP) — Eight student nurses were butchered in their town house dormitory early today in what Coroner Andrew Toman called "the crime of the century."

They were killed methodically, one at a time, by a blond man during a 2½-hour horror orgy.

Some were strangled, some shot and some knifed, police reported.

One of nine young women in the dormitory escaped after the killer's departure to tell the story to police.

Police pieced the story together thus:

About 12:30 a.m., a tall white man, about 25, came to the door of the house at 2319 E. 100th St. on Chicago's far South-east Side, one of three used as nurses' residences by South Chicago Hospital.

He asked one of the girls, who opened the door, for money, saying he was going to New Orleans. Pushing his way into the house, he drew a pistol and a knife.

Apparently the first student nurse was killed almost immediately. One body was found downstairs. The victim had been stabbed. Upstairs, most of the other residents had retired for the night in three bedrooms.

Seven of the young women were white, one was Negro and one Filipino.

Sgt. Thomas Bingham of the South Chicago Police District said that the killer penned the eight girls upstairs in one of the bedrooms, then led them, one by one, to another bedroom where they were killed during his deliberate, vicious orgy.

Lt. Francis Flanagan, chief of the detective bureau homicide section, said that the Filipino girl survived by hiding or escaping the killer's notice in some manner.

The slayer left the dormitory about 3 a.m. At nearly 6 a.m., the surviving student nurse ran to the street and stopped a passing police patrol car. She gasped her story to the unbelieving policemen who quickly verified it.

Coroner Andrew Toman, after looking at the carnage, said, "This is the crime of the century."

"I went inside and found one girl lying downstairs, apparently strangled," he said. "There was a strip of cloth around her neck. She was partly clothed."

"Upstairs, seven other girls were lying in two bedrooms and a bathroom.

"Several of the bodies were sprawled across one another. Some of the victims appeared to have been strangled. Some were lying in pools of blood," he said.

"I've been a coroner for six years, and I've never seen anything like this."

Toman gave these tentative identifications of the victims: Marlita Gargallo, 21; Pamela Wilkening, 22; Gloria Davy, 23; Susan Farris, 22; Patricia Mat-sucki, 21; Marianne Nordan, 22; Valcentia Passon, 23, and Nina Schmale, 21. He said he did not yet know where their homes were.

An FBI official said that the crime was the worst in Chicago annals. Veteran policemen were shocked, they said, by the enormous quantity of blood around the bodies of the victims.

Work Away Aging Lines

NEW YORK — (NEA)—Scientists' giant steps in space research are a marvel of this era. Yet, in spite of such triumphs as men walking in space and equipment landing on the moon, none admits finding the fountain of youth.

And with worship of the young mounting every minute, this is grievous. Or is it?

A Californian who specializes in scientific facial exercises likes to see her students work away their sagging jaws and furrowed brows. Yet Joyce Lee is the first to admit that "a blank face is unattractive because it indicates a blank person inside."

Miss Lee, over 50 years old and a perfect, smooth-skinned ad for her courses that attract many of Hollywood's beauties, says she believes in a healthy, natural look. Her exercises, she explains, are to avoid excessive, early aging of the face.

There is no need for most persons to look old before their time, she believes, and adds that much facial failure is due to bad habits.

Miss Lee says she finds her exercises and massage techniques, which she teaches in class and also outlines in a book, help the general mental attitude.

COMMON FAULTS that lead to unnecessary lines in the face that age persons prematurely can be corrected. The furrowed brows (left) or pursing and puckering of chin and lips (center) are bad habits. Correct way to smile (right) avoids wrinkling of nose and squinting of eyes that bring on lines that make women look older than they are.

grinding or clenching the teeth and letting eyelids droop.

The worst habits that cause unnecessary lines in the face include raising of eyebrows, scowling, blowing, pursing or puffing out lips and cheeks.

"Laughing too high," which means squinting of the eyes, also causes lining and can be eliminated by learning to smile properly.

Miss Lee teaches students to isolate facial muscles that control various areas and mark them with an eyebrow pencil as a guide. All exercises and massaging is done with the face creamed. Her theory is that if cream is used a person can't massage in extra lines because the cream keeps the skin pliable and moist.

Simple approaches to halting two bad habits, Miss Lee says, is to learn to open the eyes for a youthful look without lifting the eyebrows and taping the forehead to break the habit of wrinkling it.

"Remember," she points out, "we can't hide our faces with girdles and clothes like our bodies, so why not do something to keep them in shape?"

Shipboard romances are fine if you don't go overboard.

BRAKING TIPS

While you probably consider yourself a good driver, nevertheless poor braking habits may be causing you to waste money on gas, tires and brake replacements—perhaps even risking your life!

According to safety engineers in the brake lining division of Johns-Manville, more than 60% of all fatal accidents on the road are caused by excessive speeds and faulty brakes. Actually, from a safety standpoint, your brakes constitute the most important part of your car.

The big automotive news for 1966 is the disc brake—long used on racing cars and jet aircraft, and now available on many new model cars. Automotive engineers report that disc brakes develop less fade at high speeds and provide steady braking power.

But no matter what model car you own, these tips from Johns-Manville may help you put the skids to some common driving problems:

1. Give your brakes a break. The harder you use them, the quicker you'll wear out the linings. Try to ease up to stops you know you must make.

2. Don't ride the brakes. Quick, short applications and relief, are most effective to prevent heat build-up in the drums and to maintain the friction you need for smoothest stops.

3. Watch for symptoms of "sick" brakes: too much pedal movement toward the floor, grabbing too abruptly, noisiness, dragging, and brakes pulling car to one side.

4. If fluid has to be added more often than every 1,000 miles, have the entire system checked for leaks.

5. Listen for trouble evidenced by typical noises when stopping. Such as a hollow groan meaning worn or loose parts, or a shrill screech meaning the lining is worn down to the drums, and they are scraping the brake drum.

6. In case of brake failure, first apply the parking brake. Many people forget it's there. Put car into low and pump the pedal to add pressure in the system. If you can't fail to operate properly, cause them to stop, and then either stop and wait for help or drive to a safe place to stop.

By avoiding these six common causes of brake trouble, you can keep your brakes in good condition.

Taste Hawaiian Pea Blossom Soup

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

As one of the judges of the recent National College Cookery Contest, we met Laurel Tom, an 18-year-old freshman from the University of Hawaii at Honolulu. The Oriental delicacy, quick intelligence, and poise of Miss Tom, who is studying to be an elementary school teacher, impressed us. The soup, sandwich and salad she prepared symbolized the mixture of the various cultures, Caucasian and Oriental, which are shaping the life, and philosophy of Hawaii. Her recipes for Pea Blossom Soup and Chinese Vegetable Salad will fit happily into your summer menus.

PEA BLOSSOM SOUP
1 envelope smoky green pea soup mix
1 envelope golden onion soup mix
2 cups water
2 eggs, beaten
3 tablespoons minced parsley

Empty soup contents into a saucepan. Stirring with a spoon, gradually add water, bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Reduce heat, partially cover, and simmer 10 minutes. Gently stir in beaten egg; remove from heat immediately. Serve garnished with parsley.

CHINESE VEGETABLE SALAD
1 medium head Iceberg lettuce

2 green onions, finely chopped
1/4 pound roast pork (Chorizo), sliced
1 cooked chicken breast, sliced
1 tablespoon sesame seed, toasted
Chinese Dressing
Wash lettuce; drain thoroughly, crisp in refrigerator. Cut lettuce in 1/4-inch strips. Place in large salad bowl. Add parsley, green onion, sliced pork and chicken. Chill well. Just before serving add sesame seed and toss lightly with Chinese Dressing.

Chinese Dressing: Combine 1/4 cup corn oil, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1 1/2 teaspoons sugar, 1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate and pepper to taste in a jar. Shake well. Pour over salad just before serving.

No Change in Faubus Attitude

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas, appearing on a nationally televised news program, said Tuesday that he had not changed his attitude on racial problems.

He and governors George C. Wallace of Alabama and Paul Johnson of Mississippi were interviewed during the recent National Governors' Conference here.

"I would like to see the time in the country when each person is considered on his merits, not on the accident of his birth," Faubus said. "Until some members of some groups qualify themselves, however, their actions will reflect on their group."

No Profit in Some Long Term Bonds

NEW YORK (AP) — If you're in a position to lend money to the U.S. Treasury on a short-term basis, you can reap a record reward. But if you hold some long-term U.S. Treasury bonds and must sell them, you'll have to take the lowest price in more than 40 years.

Few individuals are in such a position since the Treasury's marketable bills and bonds are mostly sold in large bundles to financial institutions or to the government's other agencies. Individuals usually invest in an entirely different government security, U.S. Savings Bonds, which aren't marketable.

But this week the price of long-term U.S. Treasury bonds fell to the lowest level since the 1920s. The yield on short-term Treasury bills rose to a record high. And to the financial and business community this spelled tight money, and maybe still tighter.

The bond prices fell because interest rates in general are high and rising. Since the bonds have fixed-interest rates, the only way a buyer can get a return in line with what he can reap from a host of competing forms of investment is to pay the holder of the bonds considerably less than their par value. And if their par value was $1,000, most of them were being sold at $910 or less in the open market.

The Treasury's 13-week bills, auctioned off Monday, brought an average return to investors of 4.876 per cent, a record for this form of government borrowing. The Treasury sold $1.3 billion of them.

The average yield on its 26-week issue was 4.999 per cent, up smartly from last week but still under the record of 5.099 per cent set in January 1960.

The price of bonds and the yield of bills is important just now because of the turmoil in the stock market, the scramble for mortgage funds, the rush of corporations to borrow from the banks, and the generally rising cost of borrowing for both business and consumers.

The stock market watches the price of bonds because it shows what yields investors can get if they shop around. High yields in the bond markets call attention to the lower returns stock buy-buy stocks and helps send prices down, or keep them down.

Rising interest rates and yields — whether it's for government bonds or bank time deposits — tend to drain money away from the mortgage market. This makes it harder to find some one to finance the purchase of a new home, and sends the charges on new mortgages.

When bond prices drop, banks holding government bonds in their reserves are less likely to sell them to raise cash to lend to businessmen wanting loans to meet current expenses or to expand.

And the record yields on U.S. Treasury bills are just another example of how tight money is, how interest rates are trending, and how much it is going to cost anyone to borrow.

Affected are consumers seeking ordinary loans for purchases or to meet current bills, or businessmen, or governments at all levels.

Floating new corporate bonds issues, or new issues of municipal or state securities to take care of the demands of a growing population for services, are all tied into the same package.

Unique Hamburgers Feature Canned Beef Gravy "Sauce"

Ground beef takes on a new look in this top-of-the-fange or grill specialty. For the fun of it, shape well-seasoned ground beef into "hot dogs," brown in a skillet, and then cook in a luscious onion-sparked sauce. In 20 minutes, you'll be rewarded with the yummiest hamburgers (that have been served atop frankfurter rolls) in ages.

This is truly "good time" eating—and easy cooking! The meat requires only seasoning, shaping, and browning. And the sauce is from a can. It's flavorful canned beef gravy, velvet-smooth and rich with "beefy" home-style goodness. And the gravy is "prepared" the moment you decide to use it—just open the can and serve "as is" or dress up with your own flavor additions.

ONION-TOPPED BEEF ROLLS

1 pound ground beef
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper

Combine beef, egg, crumbs, salt, and pepper; shape into four 6-inch long rolls. In skillet brown beef, and cook onion and green pepper in butter until vegetables are tender. Add gravy. Cover; cook over low heat 20 minutes. Stir now and then. Serve on frankfurter rolls. Makes 4 servings.
